

DEVAKI AMMA MEMORIAL TEACHER EDUCATION COLLEGE

Photograph for the programmes of enrich student diversity

Anju M.

WOMAN INSIDE HER

The dragged skinny attire exposed to light
The air coated by her fertile sighs
The rose mutilated by the woods lie deadly
And they stamped her virginity into mud
Awakening herself from the oblivion
Crying aloud for the aid of cloths
She again cursed the sun for the treachery
And rebuked light for exposing her pain
She held herself against the dark wall
Her eyes laughed at the girl with veiled eyes
And at the dumb people sprinting for nothing
So she dogged to kill the woman inside her..